I have a very large series $x\_1, x\_2, \ldots, x\_N$. I have computed the partial sum of the series, and now I would like to compute the limit: $$\lim\_{N\rightarrow\infty}\left(\sum\_{i=1}^{N}\frac{1}{s-x\_i} \right)$$ I don't want to compute the limit if $s>N$ because as the number of terms get larger and larger, the series will never "see" these very large values of s. That is a waste of computation. What is the best way to compute this limit if s is to big to be included in the series, and $N
