... At the end of the 1960s, the Eye Disease Center was established in one of the houses on Bolshaya Gruzinskaya Street in Moscow under the direction of Professor M. E. Knyazev. This center was the first in the country to use special ophthalmological equipment, which allowed the treatment procedures to be carried out automatically, without the intervention of a doctor. At that time, many scientific and technical solutions were implemented for the first time in the world.
